Over 30 Appeal Against Thomas Permit; Commission Hearing Scheduled July 12

Appeal against the land use permit granted recently to Dr. W. F. Thomas for a two-story professional office building on Lot 42 at the southwest corner of Southwood Drive and Moraga Highway will be heard July 12 by the full County Planning Commission.

The July 12 commission meeting will start at 8 p.m.

This was announced yesterday by Principal County Planner H. Russell Griffith, following the June 15 filing of the appeal by Paul Vashell on behalf of more than 30 property owners in Moraga Estates.

THE APPEAL petition listed the following arguments against the permit:

"1. It will break deed restrictions.

"2. It will set a precedent, by breaking restrictions, for others to follow.

"3. It will damage our residential property values.

"4. It will increase parking congestion, which is now bad and will be much worse after the Lucky Market opens.

"5. It will increase traffic and create traffic hazards on Northwood Drive.

additional business property from

"6. It is not necessary to create residential property when several business lots remain unimproved. These lots could be used for medical centers if necessary."

APPROVAL OF Dr. Thomas' application by the County Board of Adjustment June 7 was subject to agreement between the applicant and Orindans, Inc., the local improvement association for Moraga Estates.

Following conferences between the applicant and Orindans, Inc., the following conditions for citizens' approval had been listed by Joseph Creighton, attorney for Orindans, Inc.:

1. Planting and green areas to be maintained around the building.
2. The building to be of the same general architectural design as surrounding structures.
3. Three parking spaces to be established for each office.
4. Such uses as real estate offices are not to be allowed.

According to Griffith, 31 parking spaces were shown on Dr. Thomas' plot plan, and possible uses of the two-story building would include medical, dental, attorneys' and architects' offices.

Here Are Some Highlights of Alternate Plan

Orinda "can have an adequate Community Center for one-tenth the cost of the Orinda Planning Committee proposal" if Pacific Intermountain Express' alternate-plan offer is accepted by the Orinda Association, PIE declared this week.

This statement and PIE's offer to help pay for a 9.2-acre- site just northeast of the present Commuity Center land are contained in the company's pamphlet, "An Alternate Plan for the Central Orinda Area."

THE PAMPHLET was prepared by Harold F. Wise Associates, planning consultants for PIE, and C. E. Johnson, PIE executive vice-president.

"The Orinda Association presently holds 6.83 acres of land," the pamphlet states. "The Orinda Community Church, part of the present Orinda Association area, holds 1.96 acres.

"To this it is proposed to add 9.2 acres, thus totaling 18 acres. Still more acreage may be reserved north of this enlarged 18-acre site if so desired.

"THE 9.2 ACRES to be acquired is for sale and could be obtained for $3000 to $4000 per acre, or a total of $27,600 to $36,800. If an immediate commitment is made, the figure could be reduced by one-third, and a year's time given to Orinda to pay its share."

Under the heading of "Site Preparation," the pamphlet then says:

"The topography of this extended civic center site requires grading to insure usable building sites. The slopes range from 8 per cent (8-foot rise in 100-foot run) to 25 per cent (25-foot rise in 100-foot run). The area devoted to park needs only limited grading. Grading is estimated, by competent engineers, at 32,000 cubic yards of cut and fill at 50 cents per cubic yard, a total of $16,000, or $90000 more that it would cost to grade the PIE-Shell properties, which means Orinda can have an adequate Community Center for one-tenth the cost of the Orinda Planning Committee proposal, if they accept the offer in the preceding paragraph."

"IT IS FEARED by some," the PIE pamphlet states, "that administrative headquarters development in the Crossroad area would 'open the gates' to commercial developments of all types in residential areas and thus change the distinctive characteristics of Orinda.

"However, it should be pointed out that non-residential developments around the Crossroad area have not 'opened the gates' to date. Master plan studies done to date provide exclusively for residential uses outside of the Crossroads area. These plans reflect the basic interests and desires of the people of Orinda."

Key Issues Argued In Heated Dispute Over Pine Grove

By JULIUS ROSENTHAL

"Basic issue" in the controversy over use of the Pine Grove continued to be words of spirited argument this week in Orinda—at a "Town Meeting" at Orinda School auditorium Monday night and in the days since then.

The "Town Meeting," called by the Orinda Association and attended by some 200 people, was sparked by assertions that the "basic issue" is the residential character of Orinda and by a proposal of Pacific Intermountain Express for an alternate site for a community center.

THE ALTERNATE SITE proposed by PIE is 9.2 acres of Altarinda Estates land northeast of and adjoining the present Community Center land owned by the association.

Estimating that the 9.2 acres could be obtained for $3000 to $4000 an acre or a total of $27,600 to $36,800, PIE, in a pamphlet distributed at the "Town Meeting" and later mailed to local residents, offered to pay one-third of the cost and to loan the association the other two-thirds, "with a year's time given to Orinda to pay its share."

Except for mention by Parkman Sayward, PIE's vice-president of sales and traffic, there was no comment at the Monday night gathering regarding the latest alternate site proposal.

On Wednesday, however, Association President Robert Boyle stated:

"FIRST OF ALL, contrary to PIE's apparent beliefs, we're not raising mountain goats in Orinda, so it is not possible for us to use the nine-odd acres of steep hillside for community use that is currently being dangled in front of us.

"Secondly, I have more confidence in the people of Orinda than to believe that their sense of values is so low as to be influenced by a $10,000 figure that is grossly misrepresented.

"Thirdly, the whole proposal is ridiculous and is only intended to confuse the basic issue."

WILLIAM PENN MOTT JR. of the Orinda Association's Planning Committee, as one of the speakers in a panel at the "Town Meeting," declared that the basic issue confronting Orindans in the current controversy is "whether we want commercial development foreign to the residential character of Orinda."

Other members of the panel, with Joseph Creighton as moderator, were Sayward, Frances Violich, consultant to the association's Planning Committee; Ramsay Underwood of the Orinda Chamber of Commerce, Harold Ohleyer, a "pro-PIE" resident, and Frank Newman.

Mott said, "We feel that the best, highest and most potential use of the land in Orinda, including the 2000 acres still owned by East Bay Municipal Utility District, is as high-class residential property — and we do not want the foreign development of commercial interests not serving the local needs of Orinda. That is the crucial point."

He added, "This is not a question of whether we want a community center or not. That must be decided at some future time.

"The question is whether we want commercial development foreign to the residential character of Orinda."

NEAR THE CLOSE of the "Town Meeting," Boyle, in answer to a query from the audience as to whether the association was "reneging" on a community-wide vote on the Pine Grove, said:

"We have acted on the recommendation of the Civic Affairs Committee to postpone the balloting. We have not reneged. The reason for our action is that we want to see what PIE is going to ask in its rezoning request."

Boyle opened the meeting and turned the chair over to Creighton, who introduced the panel members.

SAYWARD emphasized that the Orinda headquarters of PIE, if established, would never become a truck terminal. "The traffic resulting from the office headquarters would probably not be more than 100 cars," he said.

Regarding civic center use of the Pine Grove, recommended in Violich's recent report, "Orinda at the Crossroads — An Analysis of Proposed Land Use in Central Orinda," Sayward said:

"There are definite shortcomings in the plan for a civic center at the Pine Grove, as opposed to our plan, mainly as to size."

Sayward denied that location of an administrative office building at the Pine Grove would constitute "spot-zoning."

He briefly described the alternate plan of PIE for a civic center site, explaining that it was prepared by Harold F. Wise Associates, planning consultants for PIE, and by C. E. Johnson, PIE executive vice-president.

VIOLICH SAID: "I feel very strongly that the best plan for Orinda is the plan we have presented."

"Orinda is truly at crossroads," he remarked. "The Pine Grove makes an ideal site for a civic center or a community center, if you want to call it that. But it would be an ideal site for that purpose for a town of 25,000—not now. So it's up to you to reserve that site now."

"THIS WOULD be the first administrative office building in the suburbs of Contra Costa County. I personally feel that this would be a regional facilitiy and that therefore it shouldn't be within a mile and a half or two miles of all the residences in Orinda."

Violich admitted that "there may be a half-dozen alternative sites or arrangements for a town center, and some might cost a little less," but he added, "I do not think they would be as suitable as the Pine Grove."

Describing the Pine Grove as "right smack in the potential center of built-up Orinda and in a radius of a mile and a half to two miles from all residences in Orinda," Violich stressed.

"What you have to do is think of the years ahead and decide what to do—and go after it."

UNDERWOOD REPORTED on the chamber's recent 74-7 vote in favor of PIE's plans for an office headquarters at the Pine Grove.

"Members of the chamber came to the conclusion that they should express themselves on this matter because (1) the property in question lies contiguous to an existing business area and (2) a proposed business use is in question."

Underwood said he had asked a number of chamber members the reasons for their vote, and that the replies included the following:

1. THE SITE seemed a logical extension of the existing business district.
2. The PIE project would be an economic and esthetic asset to all of Orinda.
3. It would be the best use of the land.
4. PIE already owned the land and would be a good neighbor.
5. A community center would not be proper at the Pine Grove because it is financially impractical and because the site isn't the right place for it.

Underwood estimated that "at least 75 per cent of the members of the Chamber of Commerce are residents of Orinda." He added that the chamber will "go along" with whatever decision the community as a whole eventually makes.

OHLEYER SAID that the question of a community center has been before Orindans since 1937.

"At no time during almost 20 years, except in the last couple of years, has the Pine Grove been mentioned for a community center," he stated.

Newman said: "I want to assume that PIE's projected office building would be a beautiful building. I don't want to discuss the community center.

"Instead, I want to dig into the 'question box.'

"In answer to the question as to why PIE purchased land zoned Residential-Agricultural, the company say that preliminary surveys indicated the majority of the people to be for PIE and that the land is a logical extension of the present business district."

Newman then declared that PIE, at the time of its purchase of its 10½-acre Pine Grove property from East Bay Municipal Utility District, was aware that both the County Planning Commission and the Board of Supervisors had acted for retention of R-A zoning for the Pine Grove and that over 3400 Orindans had signed petitions to that effect.

Improvement Group Spokesmen Urge Planners to Hasten Master Plan

By ED DORIAN

Contra Costa County Supervisors and planning commissioners were urged Monday night to "pause, evaluate and appraise" and to defer all major zoning changes while working for a quick completion of the proposed regional master plan, which it is hoped "will be based on the people's desires."

Improvement group and business spokesmen, among more than 300 people attending a public meeting in Acalanes High School, revealed the varying attitudes and wishes of the people of East Contra Costa County and at the same time offered the planning staff their assistance and cooperation.

COUNTY DIRECTOR of Planning, Thomas G. Heaton, explained the background and goals of the technical staff's work and the problems involved in producing the 14 sectioned county plan. He said California's growth in the post war years has made it number one in the nation on contract labor for new construction.

William Coffee of the San Ramon Improvement Association requested a planned community of not less than one-half acre lots, business set up only in already estableshed business zoning areas, a normal population growth to avoid " a bankruptcy of our schools," and planning "in the best interests of the people; not for the exploitation of the few."

President of the Lafayette Improvement Association Campbell MacPhail, felt that Lafayette had become "low man on the totem pole. The commission seems to be putting fires out elsewhere while our plan is delayed." He cited three petitions to the planners which his community felt have been ignored. He spoke of three postponements and, after suggesting the adoption of a moratorium on rezoning until the master plan, concluded with the comment, "We're weary of waiting."

JAMES HUPP of the Orinda Association planning committee cautioned against completion of pressure of time and urged that ordinances should be adopted on regional basis. He expressed concern "that the will of the people concerning the construction of multiple dwelling units and Pacific Intermountain Express be considered first; not last!" He offered the planning staff, Orinda's experience and assistance — "In 1954 we paid out more than $2000 for technical advice. We, at present have a bill of $2000 for planning work done."

Hupp concluded with a quotation by the late President Taft. "Planning is conservation. Conservation is the greatest good to the greatest number, and that for the longest time."

Dick Mitchell, Pleasant Hill Civic Council Planning Committee member, presented a large map which represented the zoning acceptable to his group. "We feel we know what is wanted in Pleasant Hill. Since April representatives from all sections have been working on a survey based on needs, people and terrain." Mitchell stressed, "We have not been satisfied with the approach of the district attorney in planning and zoning matters. We feel he should be taking the lead instead of being led by community anxiety."

HAROLD SMITH, representing the Contra Costa Real Estate Board and General Contractors Association proposed county appointment of "the sane and sober from all groups" to make up an advisory committee, to include residents, real estate men and builders. "I feel some organizations have allowed firebrands and fanatics to gain control. There are those who make a dog fight out of every triviality that comes up; there are those strictly out for money, and there are some who would stop all progress."

Robert Guichard of the Emergency Council for Master Planning represented 138 Improvement Groups. He felt that public relations with planning officials were not what they should be, and that tre planners were not attempting a better relationship. He said "suggested hearings with the planning staff are long overdue. They were to be every three months."

Mrs. Mildred Farrar of the Women's Planning Council stressed again that no zoning, re-zoning, or use permits be allowed until completion of the master plan. "People do not yeild their sovereign right to public servants," she reminded. She spoke of contractors and builders who agreed with the people in planning and urged that "the planners tap the large reservoir of volunteer help."

MRS. FARRAR WARNED against planning by pressure. "The people want long-range policies." In that the master plan which was originally planned for December 1954, has stll not answered "The important questions of where the industries are to be, and how much; where business areas; population; roads and highways?", she recommended that the interim before the completion of the final plan be "carefully caluculated time."

Edward Rowland, Planning League spokesman, called for an economic balance among Industrial, Agricultural, Commercial and Residential expendtures. He urged a full report on all zoning matters by the technical staff and establishment of a capital outlay program to insure acquisition of rights of way for future road development and similar needs.

Rowland concluded with, "We should avoid developments which will predetermine the character of the area."

PLANNING COMMISSIONER Arthur Young hoped to clear up the misconception "that zonng is governed by the planners or the people." Young explained "Planning emanates from the people and their needs but it is in the final stages governed by law." He went on to cite the numerous restrictions governing the Commissions' work. Young concluded with the following defnition of a master plan: "A schematic affair. A frame-work within which Contra Costa might develop."

The town-hall type meeting was concluded by a short speech from Supervisor H. L. (Jack) Cummings. He said: "The initial idea for the evening's meeting was mine and I beleve that a good deal has been accomplished."

C of C Proposes Avenida Extension As Fire Need

Road extension was a leading topic at Tuesday's meting of the Chamber of Commerce, held at noon at The Willows.

E. J. Phair proposed that the chamber work for the extension of Avenida De Orinda through to a proposed road which will be constructed behind the Village.

He pointed out that the fire department which is on the road is now hemmed in, and would welcome the extension. Phair also felt that it was an established road that should be extended.

He said that Victor Sauer, county road commissioner, has indicated that an access road is being thought of by the bridge in the Village, and one or two others between the Village and the Crossroads.

President Ned DeLaveaga appointed a committee to take action, including Phair as chairman, Horace Breed, Stan Massie, Zoe Woolsey and Ramsay Underwood.

Breed announced that the district attorney is preparing an ordinance to permit parallel parking on only the north side of Brookwood Road. Tentative effective date is July 13.

He promised: "Enforcement of parking ordinances wil be discussed with Sheriff Harry Brown very soon." Breed is chairman of the district parking commission.

Underwood questioned the reason for sending a letter to the County Board of Supervisors on the PIE question: "I don't see the reason for writing to the Board on a matter that has not come before the Board or may never come before it."

Secretary Clarence Betz answered that the letter merely informed the supervisors of the chamber vote on the PIE proposal.

Ed Turk, representing the Orinda Theater, offered to pave the chamber of commerce parking lot for the use of all people.

Announcement was made that Andy Blalock will not serve as chamber manager during the coming year. He is in business in Walnut Creek.

Betz will be paid $65 per month as Secretary-Treasurer.

John Ogden suggested the chamber establish a community calendar service. He said this would help clear dates for various Orinda events. This will be discussed at the next meeting.

Scouts Seek 20 Tons of Paper

The Scouts of Troop 207 ride again tomorrow to collect their goal of 20 tons of old newspapers. Large vans will be parked in the Orinda Village in the vacant lot across from the Community Church.

Scoutmaster Gerry Cullen asks that as many bundles of tied papers as is possible be brought by residents to the vans where they will be handled by waiting boys. Other scouts assisted by their parents will call house to house until vans are filled.

Magazines will also be accepted but they should be in separate bundles.

Swimming, Biking, Softball Included In Busy Summer Recreation Program

Orinda's summer recreation program has been underway all week for grammar school pupils.

Activities have included bike tests, a savenger hunt, a fishing trip to Berkeley pier, a watermelon feed and a sprinkler party.

Monday: softball, marble and game tournaments.
Tuesday: bike test.
Wednesday: swim party.
Thursday: trip to the San Francisco Zoo.
Friday: bike hike.

In addition, special activities are carried on at each of the four grammar schools: Glorietta, Del Rey, Sleepy Hollow and Orinda.

Directors for the program include Ted Boyce, Jack Clark, Bill Hester, Keith Burnham and Shirley Fusche. Miss Fusche is the arts and crafts director.

Frank Isola, superintendent of physical education for the district, encourages the participation of all children: "A wide variety of activities are held each day at all four schols between the hours of 10 and 3. Children should bring their lunches, and join in the fun."

P.I.E. Plans Get Couple's Vote

Adding their voices to those in favor of Pacific Intermountain Express plans for the Pine Grove and opposed to Pine Grove use as a civic center are Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hay of 11 Altamount Drive.

In an "open letter" to the Orinda Association, the Hays state:

"WE HAVE BEEN frankly appalled at the lack of foresight in the suggestion that it (the Pine Grove) be held for a civic center, or recreational center, or what-have-you.

"While we do not favor indiscriminate industry anywhere in Orinda, we all recognize the need for some businesses to share our mounting tax load.

"The contribution P.I.E. would make to the tax rolls would be sizable, and the desirability of the type of business—executive offices —and the type of building that is planned is obvious."

The Hays call the attitude that the Grove should be held for a civic center "a stubborn stand," and add that if Orinda persists in it, "somehow and somewhere the money is going to have to be raised to buy back the property from P.I.E.

"We would be paying taxes on it until such time as a civic center could be built, then we'd have the added expense of the designing and building and maintenance of the civic center.

"WE WOULD LIKE to suggest that the association consider transferring its idea of a civic center to some already built residence or residences near the Crossroads, which could be purchased for considerably less than the Pine Grove area . . ." the letter continues.

This is the manner in which the city of Monterey handled the civic center problem, the Hays point out.

They add, "There is no doubt more than one resident near the Crossroads who has been eyeing with some trepidation the encroachment of business on his home property—who would be willing to consider a good offer . . . for such a purpose."

THAT "THERE is more unanimity of thought on not using the Pine Grove section for a civic center than one would gather from your (association) meetings and from newspaper reports" is also asserted.

The Hays state their views were formulated "long before" P.I.E. began its effort "to win friends in Orinda" and were not influenced by those efforts.

"We feel we have a commonsense approach to our needs. Please consider this and give it wide discussion—then put it to a vote. We're for P.I.E.," the Hays' letter concludes.

Spight Gets Degree From Oregon State

Richard Dobbs Spight of Orinda was among the graduating seniors participating in the Oregon State College commencement exercises recently. He received a Bachelor of Science degree in agriculture.

Local Youngsters Get Scholarships

Frances Ann Cardwell, Patricia Lorraine Funk and Ronald Soucy are among local young people to receive scholarships upon their graduation from East Contra Costa Junior College.

The scholarships were announced June 16 at the fifth annual commencement exercises.

Miss Funk, 203 Roberts Avenue, Pleasant Hill, received a $50 scholarship; Miss Cardwell a $100 award from Delta Kappa Gamma and Ronald Soucy a $50 scholarship from the ECCJC alumni association.

In addition the Kiwanis Club of Walnut Creek presented a $100 scholarship to Enes J. Millar of Antioch.

Pomeroy Issues Ambulance Ultimatum

Operator of the Walnut Creek Ambulance Service, Wilson B. Pomeroy, notified county officials, Monday, that "emergency service" in the South-central portion of Contra Costa will be discontinued as of July 1 unless subsidy aid is forthcoming.

Pomeroy, claiming an operating loss during the past several months, first sought but failed to enlist subsidy support from Orinda, Central, Lafayette and Danville Fire Districts. He subsequently has requested county assistance.

FIRST SEEKINNG a $600 per month subsidy, Pomeroy said that with rate and mileage increases now granted for county hospital runs, he has lowered the request to ask $450 per month subsidy.

He notified County Administrator D. M. Tetter and third district Supervisor Ray Taylor, that he will have to cut-back on his personnel costs and discontinue emergency service for highway auto crashes and similar emergencies as of July 1 unless assistance is granted soon.

HE WILL CONTINUE in business for routine ambulance sick calls and transfers of patients.

The closest available service for emergency transportation would require calling an ambulance from Concord, Martinez or Pittsburg.

A GUIDE DOG will be given to some blind person, and the blind person will be trained to use the dog, thanks to Boy Scout Troop 207. The troop recently turned over to Guide Doge for the Blind, Inc., the final installment on $1500 it raised over a period of more than two years for that purpose. Troop members admiring the plaque presented to the troop by the Guide Dog School, in appreciation of the troop's efforts, are Steve De Maria, former senior patrol leader; John Coates, Dave Brown, who has just completed his term as senior patrol leader; Scoutmaster T. G. Cullen and Mike Halloran, present senior patrol leader.

Go to Church Sunday

Episcopal

For the last time until September, three regular services will be held on Sunday at 8, 9:30 and 11 a.m., at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, which serves Orinda and Lafayette from Via Las Cruces in the Charles Hill area.

St. Stephen's junior choir under the direction of Mrs. Lyndon Vivrette will sing for the 9:30 service, and the senior choir will perform during the 11 a.m. service under the leadership of organist and choirmaster Donald Aird.

During the months of July and August, only two Sunday morning services will be conducted at St. Stephen's, the customary 8:30 Holy Communion rite, and the morning prayer service at 9:30 a.m. with Holy Communion at the later hour only on the first Sunday of each month.

Junior and senior choirs will alternate Sundays during the two vacation months. Donald Aird will continue at the organ. Sunday school will not be resumed until September.

Lutheran

The Rev. Gerald Lenswi, D.D., will be the guest speaker at the 8 and 11 a.m. services at the Shepherd of the Valley Lutheran Church this Sunday. He will also meet with the adult class which convenes with the Sunday School at 9:30 a.m.

Dr. Lenski is well known throughout the Lutheran Church as an outstanding speaker and writer. His column appeared weekly in the American Standard, the official publication of the American Lutheran Church. His observations were of particular interest because of his pastorate for 32 years at one of the large Lutheran congregations in Washington, D.C.

At present he is busy training young seminary students in the art of preaching at the Pacific Lutheran Seminary where he is professor of Dogmatics.

Mormon

Thomas Stuart Ferguson, president of the Orinda Branch of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, announced that during the summer months the Sunday School services—held in facilities of Orinda Community Church—would be held at 8:30 a.m., this schedule to prevail during the summer months. Members and friends desiring to attend this service, should note change of time. This applies to the Junior Sunday School as well as the adult classes.

Last Thursday the children of the Primary Association, comprising ages 4 to 11 inclusive, were entertained by the Primary President, Mrs. Altha McManus, at her home on Northwood Drive. Class work was dispensed with and games and refreshments were enjoyed during the afternoon with a large group of members and their little friends being present.

The actual beginning of the summer class work was Tuesday at 10:30 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Ester I. Ferguson, of the Primary Presidency, at her home at 1 Irving Lane. Parents of primary age children should note the commencement date of the summer session and anyone needing transportation should notify Mrs. McManus before the July date.

Community

Developing the theme, humility, Dr. Gene Carter will preach on "The Peace that Passeth Understanding" at the 10:30 chapel service on Sunday at the Orinda Community Church. This is the second time this month that Dr. Carter, Associate Prof. of Town and Country Church at the Pacific School of Religion, has been the guest minister here.

"I Will Lift up Mine Eyes," an anthem by Harker, will be sung by the chapel choir under the direction of Mrs. Margaret Popovich, Director of Music. Dan Popovich will play the memorial organ, rendering "Apres un Reve" by Faure, "Springtide" by Grieg and "Prelude to Parsifal" by Wagner.

Sunday School will be at 10:30, following the unified summer schedule. Classes follow fall grades with a full complement of able teachers assisted by high school students.

Young peoples groups will continue to meet at 5:30 and 6:45 throughout the summer under the direction of Jack Biersdorf.

Recreation Facility Work Underway

At the Sleepy Hollow Recreational Association board meeting held recently, nine bids for the grading of the central area of the proposed recreational facility were opened. The bids ranged from $9934 to $27,000. The site covers 54 acres.

The contract for the site preparation, grading and culverting was awarded to John Carstensen for $9934. Work began Tuesday with the 1.3 acres level area around the pool to be ready for pool construction on July 10. The 1.5 acres parking lot, the 30 foot by 3000 foot road, the half-acre play area, service roads, and other work are to be finished by August 15.

The road is to be called Sunnyside Lane, after the home of Washington Irving, author of the Legend of Sleepy Hollow.

Present at the June 15 board meeting was Gene Estes who wrote the specifications for the grading contract and advised the board on the bids for the grading of the central area of the Recreational Association property.

Another board meeting was held Tuesday to review plans and specifications for the swimming pool, wading pool and filter plant which have been worked out and written up by John Rinne and Frank Berry. This contract is to be let for bid immediately. The main pool will be 4770 square feet in surface area while th wading pool is to be 25 feet in diameter.

Over 200 members now have subscribed and memberships are open to interested persons outside of Sleepy Hollow. Those interested should call Miles Sutliffe at CLifford 4-2626.

Planners Delay Warford Action

County Planning Commission action on plans for a new 296-lot subdivision, Warford Mesa, between the Crossroads and the J. D. St. Hill property on the southeast side of Mt. Diablo Boulevard has been postponed until "possibly next Tuesday night or July 5," Principal County Planner H. Russell Griffith said yesterday.

According to Griffith, the problem of "a one-way street" remains to be "cleared up." Commission delay was voted Tuesday night.

THE COUNTY BOARD of Adjustment on Wednesday night took the following actions regarding Orinda matters:

1. Granted Hancock Construction Company a permit for a lot less than half-acre on the west side of Glorietta Boulevard approximately 600 feet south of Meadow View Road.

2. Delayed action on Joe K. Ellsworth's application for 5-foot and 5-foot sideyards and elimination of setbacks for garage on Lot 115, north side of Via Farallon, so that the applicant and neighbors can confer and notify the county planning staff of the results of the conferences.

Meadow Pool Membership Filling Even Before Land Use Permit

James Thomas-Stahle, chairman of the membership committee of the Meadow Pool Corporation, reports that 206 of the 250 available memberships have already been taken up in the Moraga Meadows and Glorietta areas.

The group is seeking to build a swimming pool on a six-acre site near the intersection of Heather Lane and Valley Drive.

After the County Planning Commission turned down Meadow Pool's bid for a land use permit, the group retained the law firm of Tinning and DeLap of Martinez to appeal the case to the Board of Supervisors.

The appeal was filed Monday in Martinez, and was signed by Carlisle B. Lane, Meadow Pool's vice-president. The Board has scheduled a hearing for July 5 at 2 p.m.

Many applications for membership in the Corporation have been received from people in other nearby neighborhoods, according to Thomas-Stahle. He said that these will not be accepted, pending approval of land use by the county.

All membership applications must be accompanied by $25 plus a promissory note for th balance. If the land use permit is accepted, low monthly payments can be started on the first of the following month.

In case the permit is not granted, Thomas-Stahle said that any money will be returned to the perspective memebrs, less an amount not to exceed $12 to cover costs sustained so far on the pool project.

THE POOL DIRECTORS decided that persons owning property on Heather Lane or Valley Drive would be given first consideration on future waiting lists.

Randell Cook, one of the directors, stated that it is not known as yet whether the county is going to take any further action to correct the safety hazard at the intersection of Heather Lane and Glorietta Boulevard.

COUNTY CREWS have removed part of the shoulder which obstructs the condition, according to the recommendations of the county safety engineer. The President of the Meadow Pool Corporation, Frank Leibold Jr. gives assurance that his group can pay for the completion of the work.

Thomas-Stahle expects all 250 memberships will be filled easily. He can be contacted by residents of the Moraga Meadows and Glorietta Way areas on any questions concerning membership.

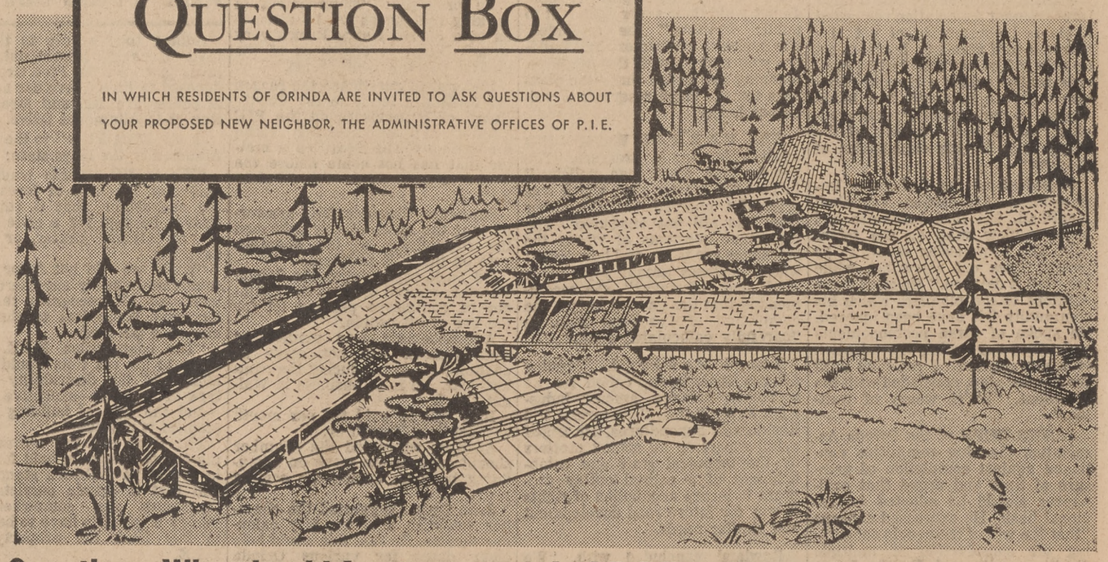
THE PINE GROVE
QUESTION BOX

IN WHICH RESIDENTS OF ORINDA ARE INVITED TO ASK QUESTIONS ABOUT YOUR PROPOSED NEW NEIGHBOR, THE ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICES OF P.I.E.



Question: Why should I vote approval of P-I-E building on the Pine Grove?

Answer (1): Because P-I-E will make a considerable contribution in taxes. In addition to financial support, the company will actively support community civic interests and aims.

Answer (2): Because the P-I-E building sets a precedent in design and landscaping. Because of Professional - Administrative zoning, (which is exclusive), it does not "open the gates" for rezoning requests, as explained in the booklet, "An Alternate Plan for the Central Orinda Area."

Answer (3): Because the P-I-E Administrative Office is not in conflict with businesses already established or planned in the Crossroads area.

Answer (4): Because, with your approval of P-I-E building on the Pine Grove, the company will assist in purchasing additional land behind the present Orinda Association property for an adequate Community Center site. This location and land area answers the criteria of the Violich report—at one-tenth the cost of the Pine Grove site.

Girl Scout Day Camp Opens Monday

Final plans and preparations are being made this week for the opening of the Girl Scout Day Camp Monday.

The camp site is located in the Lafayette area off Springhill Road and covers 65 acres of beautiful wooded land. It is the result of much hard work on the part of the scout council headed by Mrs. Leonard Ford of Walnut Creek.

MANY WORK PARTIES consisting of the Girl Scout fathers of this area have been working on week-ends to clear the land, build camp sites units, trails, fireplaces, etc.

The program will consist of six sessions of five days each, beginning on Monday and ending on Friday. Each day will have many and varied activities for the girls. American Indian lore will be the theme this year and many of these activities will be directed along this line. There will be basket-weaving, loom work, percussion instruments made from gourds, Indian dances and skills.

The Intermediates will be busy working toward their over-night stay, by setting up their camp, learning out-door cooking along with many other phases of out-door living. Other activities will include nature study, singing, folk-dancing, hiking, use of knife and hatchet, games and fun.

THE PURCHASE AND development of this camp have been made possible through the untiring efforts of many people in this area including Mrs. Leonard Ford, Mayor Edward Counter of Walnut Creek, Mrs. Thurston Skei and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Underhill of Lafayette.

Serving on the camp site development committee are Arthur London, Alamo; J. W. Crouch, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Pember, Danville; Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Brecklin, Lafayette; G. Goodwill, Walnut Creek; Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Engelhard, Orinda, and J. Magill.

Local Scouts to Join World Jamboree

Five fortunate local Boy Scouts have been selected to attend the 8th World Scouting Jamboree at Niagara- On- The- Lake, Ontario, Canada. They will join more than 15,000 scouts representing nearly every country in the world.

The five scouts chosen from this area are Stephen DeMaria and Dave Brown, both of Troop 207, Orinda; Bruce Herbert Jr., Pleasant Hill, of Sea Scout Ship 203, Lafayette; Eugene Smith of Explorer Post 168, Concord; and Dan Dempsey of Explorer Post 243, Rodeo.

The boys will leave August 9 for Salt Lake City where they will join in a Pre-Jamboree training camp for three days. Special trains will take scouts to Chicago, Washington, D.C., and New York City where special tours and events have been planned for them.

They arrive at the Jamboree on August 19 for ten crowded days of scouting activities and events including trips to the Canadian Exposition and Niagara Falls.

The five boys earned their trips in close competition from a selected group of qualified Boy Scouts, Explorers and Sea Scouts.

Dance Recital to Be Given By 150 Students Tonight

Approximately 150 students, dance pupils of Lila Murphy, will present a recital at Acalanes High School at 8:15 tonight.

The "Bouquet," featuring 70 children ranging in age from 3½ to 9 years, gives the beginning and intermediate classes their first opportunity to show their formal ballet training.

THE BOYS WILL have their chance for pantomime and tap in the minstrel act.

A cast of 75 children will perform "The Wizard of Oz," the featured dance drama. The story is developed by the use of many forms of the dance art — pantomime, interpretive and character dance—with the more beautiful portions of the story told through the ballet medium.

Sandra Lee will play the part of Dorothy, with Judy Hopkins as the Tin Woodman, Frances Losey as the Scarecrow and Norman Fisher as the Cowardly Lion.

RENEE' diMAGGIO as the Witch, Marilyn Timoney as the Swan Queen and Saundra Thurston as Ozma, carry the ballet portion of the story. The other characterizations are developed by pantomime.

Tap, acrobatic and interpretive dances will be interspersed throughout the artistic, fast moving program, which will be brought to a close with an Aloha finale, according to Lila Murphy, who is celebrating completion of her ninth year of ballet instruction in Orinda.

Class of '55 Graduates at Acalanes

William Freeman, member of the Board of Trustees, passed out the graduation certificates.

Invocation was delivered by Bishop Joseph Hilton, Pleasant Hill Ward, Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints.

Participants in the program included: Neil M. Parsons, district superintendent; Principal Stanley Walgren; Father Thomas Collins, St. Perpetua's Catholic Church of Lafayette; Richard Jarrett, vice president of the graduating class; and the Acalanes Band and A Capella choir directed by Richard Hansen.

Camp Facilities Available for The Handicapped

Letters are being distributed this week to parents of physically handicapped children throughout Contra Costa County concerning two day camps which are being sponsored this summer by the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults here.

The camps will be in operation for two weeks, Monday, August 15 through Friday, August 26, five days each week. One camp, which will be held at Indian Camp in Tilden Park will be open to western Contra Costa County youngsters, and to children who live in Orinda, Lafayette and Walnut Creek.

PHYSICALLY HANDICAPPED children living in eastern Contra Costa County will be eligible to attend the camp to be held at Antioch Park in Antioch.

All of the activities noramlly associated with the day camp experience will be offered, and will be adapted to each child's capabilities. Nature lore, crafts, stories, cook outs, short hikes, and community singing will be part of each day's program.

Physically handicapped children between the ages of six and sixteen who cannot participate in normal summer recreation activities will be eligible to attend.

Day camps are a service which the Easter Seal Society is able to provide for crippled children of Contra Costa County through funds derived from the annual campaign.

THERE WILL BE NO attendance fee, but officials state that attendance at each camp will be limited to 25, and that applications will be considered on a first come, first served basis.

Parents of physically handicapped children may receive further information by calling Mrs. G. W. Luhr, YE 4-6624. Applications may be received by writing to Mrs. Lloyd Dicely, 430 Dimm Street, Richmond.

Sheriff Destroys Pinball Machine

Resident-Group Hears Discussion About Rural Area

"We moved to Orinda to make our homes in a rural community. Industry in Orinda will bring many people to work here, create traffic problems on our roads and eliminate to a further extent the residential character of the area."

That statement was made Sunday night to the steering committee of the Citizens for Residential Orinda by F. Bert Fernhoff of 3 Orchard Road, former Oakland city attorney.

HIS REMARKS were made during discussion of the Pine Grove dispute and the controversy over Pacific Intermountain Express' plans to erect a $750,000 office headquarters on its property at the Pine Grove.

"I cannot understand," Fernhoff continued, "why any firm insists upon intruding into an area primarily residential when there is so much industrial and commerial land available throughout Alameda and Contra Costa Counties already set aside for businesses."

Fernhoff went on to say that "it is a well-known fact that taxes always rise in any community when business and industry move in."

"THE FACILITIES necessary to cope with business cannot be carried in taxes by the companies involved," he said. "The home owners provide the difference."

Raymond G. O'Connor, chairman of the Citizens for Residential Orinda, declared that it was "unreasonable to face the people of Orinda with the problem of outside commercial interests only a few months after more than 75 per cent of the residents had declared themselves in favor of retaining the present zone restrictions in the Pine Grove area."

Referring to PIE's proposal for an alternate site for a community center, O'Connor said:

"PIE's latest offer to buy Orinda's support for $10,000 is resented. We do not believe that Orindans will sell the residential character of their community for approximately $1 per inhabitant.

"Our committee," O'Connor added, "intends to provide Orindans with the facts in this controversy as opposed to the distortions and misrepresentations being circulated by PIE."

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor:

I wish to thank the contractors and equipment operators who participated in the leveling of the ground for the Youth Building site on the Community Center property.

The Board of Directors of the Community Center and particularly the people of Lafayette owe a tremendous "thank you" to these men.

On May 14 and 15 they donated their time, effort and equipment to bulldozing a road into the site and leveling off some 2700 cubic yards of dirt—and at no cost to the Community Center.

These men gave unselfishly of their time and money to perform a service for both the adults and youth of Lafayette—a public service of which they can well be proud. Lafayette is indeed fortunate to have such people living here.

It is just such help and cooperation as this that will build this Community Center that is so much needed in Lafayette.

In speaking for myself and the Board of Directors, we thank you: Tony Lemos, George Machado, Bert Bertagnolli, Louis Martino, Harry Cleverdon and Al Anaclerio —for your fine contribution to the Community Center.

Dear Editor:

As a member of the Orinda Planning Committee, Orinda Association, it would be less than fair not to call to all residents' attention "An Alternation Plan for the Central Orinda Area." I have read it. It is logical. It makes sense.

Originally, Mr. Violich was asked to make a study that was to be objective and was to explore alternatives. The completed report, in the opinion of some, did not fully accomplish these objectives—particularly along the lines of alternatives.

"An Alternative Plan for the Central Orinda Area" does accomplish this purpose. It should be read and understood by all who are interested in PIE's proposal regarding the Pine Grove.

WHAT'S DOING

George A. Bauslaugh, your Telephone Manager in Orinda

"Tool chest on wheels"— part of good telephone service

You've probably seen construction trucks like this around town from time to time. But chances are you've never realized how many different things are packed into them. As you can see, we've included every item that could possibly help our construction crews work more rapidly, safely, and efficiently. And, of course, these men have had the very best training possible. Providing good tools for people who know their jobs is part of the A-to-Z planning behind your telephone and all others here in town . . . in order to keep your service fast and dependable. Pacific Telephone works to make your telephone a bigger value every day.

It's easy to extend telephone convenience to any part of your home

Just think how handy it would be to have a telephone in each room you use a lot. In the living room, kitchen, and a bedroom, for instance. With an up-to-date arrangement like this, there's always a telephone nearby when you want it. No more running to answer or make a call. Cost? Less than a nickel a day for each additional telephone. And if you like, one or more of your extensions can be in color. Either way, it takes only a couple of minutes to order. Just call our business office.

History Making Telephone Man Retires

Recently Ralph "Knute" Knudsen retired after 42 years with Pacific Telephone.

Knudsen's employment started in 1913 in Nevada. Only a few months later, on June 17, 1914, "Knute" was writing telephone history at Wendover, by making the final splice in the first transcontinental telephone line. He moved to California shortly after that and worked in a number of Northern California cities before transferring to Berkeley in 1919, where he and his wife have lived since that time.

"Knute" was honored by fellow employees and friends at a dinner celebration.

Peg Morrison, Marshall Dutton Recite Vows

Families gathered June 4 at the Kenneth G. Morrison home on Reliez Valley Road, Lafayette, to witness the simple but beautiful ceremony uniting Mr. and Mrs. Morrison's daughter, Margaret Ann (Peg) with Marshall Dutton.

The Rev. Ernest Tufft of the Walnut Creek Presbyterian Church officated at the wedding.

Charles A. Kenny Jr., of Lafayette, was best man.

Peg wore a ballerina-length white lace and net dress and carried an old-fashioned bouquet of pink and white roses and bouvardia.

By Proper Care of Acid Loving Plants You Will Be Able to Enjoy Color Show

By THE GARDENER

"THE TIME HAS COME," as the Walrus might have said, to speak, not of cabbages, but of acid-loving plants.

These plants should have the proper fertilizing and mulching now if their lovely, colorful flowers are to be enjoyed in the future.

Those plants which generally fall under the category of acid-loving are camellias, fuchsias, rhododendrons and azaleas.

ALL THRIVE in acid soils and in applying a mulch the gardener should work with such materials that will give an acid reaction.

Leaf mold, peat moss, a compost of oak leaves, for instance, will all react in an acid-manner in addition to helping maintain a moist soil which these plants enjoy.

In the care of camellias, mulching with peat or compost will not only help to keep roots cool but also will provide a continuous supply of organic material.

Fertilizers that are acid-reacting are usually applied in early spring and again about four months later.

FUCHSIAS REQUIRE less acidity than do other acid-loving plants. However a slightly acid and very rich moist soil with good drainage is the best planting medium for the fuchsia, and in mulching, a 3-inch application of peat or sawdust cools the plant's roots.

If the mulch is watered frequently, moist air will cool the plant, too.

As for fertilizing, the fuchsia will react quickly to any complete fertilizer, organic or inorganic. Apply according to the manufacturer's directions, but after growth is going strong in the spring cut the spe- small amount in four parts and apply once weekly.

SO ACID-LOVING are rhododendrons and azaleas that they can even be planted in straight much material—peat moss or peat moss and sand.

Planting in mulch material is recommended in California if there is any question of the suitability of the soil. Otherwise the planting medium can be half peat or leaf mold and half soil.

As for fertilizing rhododendrons and azaleas, complete acid fertilizers are recommended by nurserymen, with the suggestion not to overdo the feeding of these plants.

Supply yourself with mulching materials and fertilizers to care for your acid-loving plants.

If you begin a proper feeding and mulching program now, you will be able to enjoy a longer-lasting color show in your garden later.

MOTOR VEHICLES

A total of 349,785 motor vehicles entered California through border quarantine stations during May, 1955, reports the National Automobile Club. This total, which was 29,967 greater than that for May of last year, was comprised of 322,817 automobiles, 23,271 commercial trucks, and 3697 busses.

Fibrous Begonias Offer Varieties Of Use in Garden

This member of the begonia family is firbrous-rooted, as compared to the bulbs of the tuberous and the rhizomes of the rex.

An excellent bedding subject, the fibrous begonia is available for planting as bushy plants, dwarfs or taller growing plants.

The bushy plant called bognio semperflorens grows to 18 inches, with green or reddish-green foliage and almost ever-blooming flowers of white, pink, rose or red.

Begin fibrous begonia culture in your garden by obtaining the various types of plants from your nurseryman.

Water is the prime requisite of this plant, and at planting time enrich the soil with peat or leaf mold and manure.

DRY MEANS TROUBLE

Fair weather and foul play quite often go together on the highway, according to the National Automobile Club. Approximately 84 per cent of all traffic accident fatalities occurred on dry pavements in 1954.

PRODUCTION IN 1900

United States factories produced 4192 passenger cars in 1900, according to the National Automobile Club.

Taxpayers Refute 'High Tax' Talk

"It is entirely misleading," stated J. B. Corrie, president of the Contra Costa County Taxpayers' Association, in commenting today on a report of the State Board of Equalization that Contra Costa County has the highest property tax rate in the state.

"Tax rates mean nothing in themselves, and can be intelligently compared only after being combined with the level of assessed property value, which varies from county to county," Corrie continued. He added that in Contra Costa County property is assessed at lower values than in most other counties, with the result that higher tax rates have to be used here to produce the same total tax burden.

The Board of Equalization report gave the county's total tax rate average as $7.85 per $100 of assessed property value, and the other Bay Area counties as follows: Alameda $7.76; San Francisco $6.84; Solano $4.93 and state average $6.07.

The California Senate Interim Committee on State and Local Taxation has studied the levels of assessed valuation in each county and has reported that for the state as a whole the average valuation placed on property is 27% of its actual market value. The figure given for Contra Costa County is 21%, for Alameda 35%, for San Francisco 38%, and for Solano 25%.

"Therefore," stated Mr. Corrie, "if we combine the tax ratee with these assessment levels, the results are the following adjusted rates, showing the actual taxes in each county: Contra Costa $6.10; Alameda $10.06; San Francisco $9.63; Solano $4.57; and the state average remaining the same at $6.07."

Cancer Society Lacks 38% of Goal

The Contra Costa County Branch of the American Cancer Society, has during their 1955 cancer crusade, raised $17,000, which is only 62% of the amount necessary to carry on the branch's educational and service program in Contra Costa County.

Of every dollar contributed to the American Cancer Society in Contra Costa County, 40 cents remains here for local branch activities and 60 cents goes to the state and national divisions to finance research and educational projects.

However, American Cancer Society funds returned to California for research projects are in excess of 35% of funds collected.

Donations to the 1955 Cancer Crusade, may be forwarded to: Contra Costa County Branch, American Cancer Society, 2363 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Walnut Creek.

Local Writers Win in Contest

Two local writers, members of Diablo Valley Branch, are winners of three awards in the National League of American Pen Women's Contest, it was announced recently.

Mrs. Jean Scott of 3358 Sweet Drive, Lafayette, won firsts in the light verse category with "Compatibility," and in the teen-age story field with "Dory and the Dreamboat."

Mrs. Winifred Johnson of 2837 Miranda Avenue, Walnut Creek, won first in short story with "A Story of Love."

The National League of American Pen Women held its Mid-Administration Congress simultaneously with Western Region contests June 3-9 in San Jose.

Members of some 55 western branches competed in the contests. Diablo Valley Branch, representing Contra Costa County, won seven other cash awards, besides the three won by the two local area women.

Errors Result In Lafayette Legion Defeat

The Lafayette Legion, playing one of its better games to date, came mighty close to pulling the season's upset last Saturday afternoon when the lads played the undefeated league leading El Cerrito nine at El Cerrito in a regularly scheduled league game.

However, the Lafayette team was finally toppled, 10-5.

Mike Barrett was on the mound for the local club, and the diminutive southpaw proved very effective with his portside slants—although untimely errors were committed in the late stages of the game.

THE LAFAYETTE club had men on second and third in the first and fourth frames, but failed to score, with El Cerrito taking a 2-0 lead by scoring in the second inning on an error and tallying another lone run in the fourth on another boot.

The big break came in the seventh and eighth frames when the El Cerrito club scored eight runs on three hits, without a single earned run crossing the home plate.

THAT MADE IT 10-0, but the Lafayette nine came back with a rally of their own in the ninth, when they scored five runs on four hits, an error and two bases on balls.

The Lafayette club hit around the lineup, with inning and game ending when Don Babcock was out on a deep fly to right field.

BABCOCK TOOK game hitting honors, collecting a double and a pair of singles in five trips to the plate.

The Lafayette club had a total of nine hits to seven by El Cerrito, but five errors in the field to El Cerrito's two proved to be their downfall.

Summer Lull Is the Calm Before Storm Of That 'Madness' Known as Football

BY ERWIN MATTSON

SUMMERTIME IS HERE—and with it comes a lull, as far as prep sports are concerned. The lull, of course, consists of inactivity in competitive athletics.

Coaches, on the other hand, are taking advantage of the non-activity period to make plans for the not-too distant pigskin season.

"Football madmen" will soon arrive, and particularly in the local area, with the San Francisco 49ers going into practice sessions at St. Mary's College in Moraga Valley, starting July 10.

I say "San Francisco 48ers" advisedly, because in reality the pro club belongs to all Northern California, as far as local pro allegiance is concerned.

Local fans are many, and the trek will be St. Mary's way, once July 10 rolls around, because that's the date some 80 rookies arrive to try out for positions for the coming season.

Competition is bound to be keen, not only because of the caliber of players reporting but also because it appears there will be only somewhere between 10 and 15 positions open.

On July 17 a game will be played between the rookies and Fort Ord's best. The game, to be played at St. Mary's, is expected to draw thousands, and certainly will be the beginning of the ball madness known as football.

Two Acalanes High football players will be on hand at workouts and home games, serving as general helpers. The two are Harold Eklund and Wayne Hollister, who are working in the equipment department for the summer and should come to know the 49ers from A to Z, as they will be eating with them as well as working with them during the day.

The clinic, under the guidance of the University of Nevada, features UCLA's football coach, "Red" Sanders.

Deklotz, headman in football at Las Lomas, has always used some single-wing, and it could be that he plans more of its use, in as much as Sanders is strictly single-wing.

Las Lomas has a building job to do, as its first senior graduation took a strong nucleus of players—more so than is usually the case.

PLEASANT HILL High School also had its first graduation, but was not hit nearly as hard as might be expected.

Many of its standouts this year were juniors, who will be back for one more season.

Palmer's charges were runners-up, along with Pittsburg, to the Acalanes Dons this year and look to be the club to beat next season.

IN BASEBALL Pleasant Hill has many veterans back and, on top of that, figures to pick up several transfers with the influx of new students in the rapidly growing area.

All local prep coaching staffs are busy making plans for the opening practice of August 19.

Every staff of the local three high schools has changes in personnel.

Las Lomas, Pleasant Hill and Acalanes have all made changes, which will be discussed in this column next week.

Cerebral Palsy Group Convenes

The June meeting of the East Contra Costa Chapter of the United Cerebral Palsy Association was held at the Mount Diablo Therapy Center, Walnut Creek recently, with results of the 1955 fund-raising campaign reported by Van M. Williams, treasurer.

Assemblyman Donald D. Doyle served as chairman of the campaign, which ran from May 1 to May 31.

John B. Clausen, president, announced that funds will be used during the coming year for the benefit of Cerebral Palsied Children of East Contra Costa County.

The chapter is now formulating plans for support of the Shadelands School summer program for handicapped children. Other plans for the coming year include further assistance to the Sheltered Workshop program for employing cerebral palsy victims, and education of the public to the problems of the Cerebral Palsied.

Christian Science

That spiritual understanding of the law of God opens the door to individual growth and progress will be stressed at services Sunday at Churches of Christ, Scientist, at 42 Orinda Highway, Orinda, and 1347 Locust Street, Walnut Creek.

Scriptural selections in the Lesson Sermon entitled "Christian Science" include the following from Psalms (19:7): "The law of the Lord is perfect, converting the soul; the testimony of the Lord is sure, making wise the simple."

The value of understanding this law will also be brought out in passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, including the following (128:4-6,14):

"The term Science, properly understood, refers only to the laws of God and to His government of the universe, inclusive of man. . . . A Knowledge of the Science of being develops the latent abilities and possibilities of man. It extends the atmosphere of thought, giving mortals access to broader and higher realms. It raises the thinker into his native air of insight and perspicacity."

Larry's Trounces State Farm Club, Then Does Repeat

Last Friday night saw Larry's Flying A club rack up another win when it posted a 9-0 shutout over State Farm in Walnut Creew Softball League play at Walnut Creek City Park.

Gus Teichera, hurling for Flying A, came close to a no-hit, no-run performance as he gave up but one hit over the seven-inning route.

The lone safe blow came in the first inning when Dick Wagner hit a single.

LARRY'S, on the other hand, had things pretty much their own way as they scored five runs in the third, two in the fifth and another pair in the sixth.

John Witherwax was tops with the stick, getting a single and double in two times at bat.

ON MONDAY Larry's pulled a repeat win over State Farm, coming through on the long end of a 5-1 count.

Ed Bill was on the mound for Larry's, and he threw a one-hit performance while giving up one run, and that in the seventh, to notch the win, 5-1.

JIM TEICHERA and Bob Wierick each had two for four at the plate, all blows being of the single variety.

Ralph Ligon and Ed Bill formed the winning battery, while for the losers it was Tom Joy on the mound and Lee Woodward behind the mask.

THE SCHEDULE calls for Kings and State Farm to play tonight and Monday night.

Next Tuesday it's Larry's in an exhibition. On Wednesday it will be State Farm in another exhibition, while the girls show on Thursday.

Kings and Larry's Flying A engage in a league tilt next Friday night.

The 20 drivers for the 25-mile race were selected on the basis of their main event finishes over the past month on the local track.

Tonight's grind will mark the first time the hard tops have gone beyond the usual 25-lap route this season at Contra Costa.

HIGHER ALTITUDES

Motorists whose touring takes them into mountainous areas for the first time are frequently puzzled at the sudden loss in engine efficiency, at the sudden sluggishness in the engine's performane. This will not be too mysterious, and can be corrected quickly, if the motorist remembers that the carburetor mixture that is perfect in the lowlands will be too rich for the mountainous country.

Ten years ago . . . when delegates met in San Francisco to organize the United Nations in the interest of world peace, we published the message below.

Today . . . as we welcome the United Nations Commemorative Session, we reprint this same message, with the same abiding hope for peaceful world.

Prayer of Peace

ST. FRANCIS OF ASSISI • 1182-1226

LORD, make me an instrument of Thy peace.
Where there is hatred, let me sow love.
Where there is injury, pardon.
Where there is doubt, faith.
Where there is despair, hope.
Where there is darkness, light.
Where there is sadness, joy.

O DIVINE MASTER, grant that
I may not so much seek
To be consoled, as to console;
To be understood, as to understand;
To be loved, as to love;
For it is in giving, that we receive.
It is in pardoning, that we are pardoned.
It is in dying, that we are born to eternal life.

To the men of many nations who meet in peaceful council in the city of St. Francis

You have the prayers of millions attuned to your deliberations. What you determine will be a flame raised high for All the World—an augury of hope and faith for the Peace to come. May you visit us again, when the bells proclaim fulfillment of your historic labors

At the end of the year the group, known as "The Guiders," turns over all contributions to the San Rafael school to go towards the education of some blinded veteran or civilian from the west.

Advance Notice Should Be Given on Freeway Hearings

Of considerable interest and importance to people of this area, a hearing on the eastern portion of the proposed Shepherd Canyon Freeway—from St. Mary's College to Acalanes Junction at Mt. Diablo Boulevard—was held by the State Division of Highways at the Veterans Memorial Building in Lafayette last week.

However, only a small number of local citizens were present at the June 15 meeting. Reason for this was undoubtedly that insufficient notice of the session had been given by the State Division of Highways.

For instance, a letter from the Highways Division informing us that the hearing was going to be held was not received by The Sun until Monday, June 13; the letter was dated Friday, June 10. So no opportunity was given the local press for advance publicizing of the meeting.

A metropolitan daily newspaper carried a two-inch story the day before the hearing, that the hearing was to be held.

All ths adds up to the obvious fact that many people and organizations vitally interested in the subject of the meeting were not informed ahead of time that the meeting was to be held.

If this were the first time such a situation occurred, one one would not inclined to be so concerned. But the very same sort of thing happened a couple of months ago regarding a State Division of Highways hearing on a change of routing in the Walnut Creek-to-Danville leg of the Walnut Creek By-Pass.

As in the case of last week's meeting, the press was unable to print advance notice of the hearing.

We believe that at least two weeks' advance notice should be given by the State Division of Highways of each such hearing.

Another shortcoming in the present conduct of these hearings is that while officials are discussing routes, maps are unavailable to the press and the people.

Although a large map was on display at last week's hearing, state highway officials stated that a map of the route will not be available for publication until the California Highway Commission reviews the plan.

In explanation of this procedure, officials say the route under discussion is not definite.

We appreciate that freeway routes are really not definite or finalized until construction actually gets under way—but even a general or tentative map would be valuable and instructive to the people.

At the hearing last week, The Sun representative raised the question of inadequate advance notice, and Assistant State Highway Engineer B. W. Booker apologized for the delay in notifying the press.

It is to be hoped that ample advance notification of hearings will be given from now on by the State Division of Highways—whether the hearing be another regarding the Shepherd Canyon Freeway or whether it concern some other freeway project.

Builders Exchange Will Hold Panel

In a move to separate fact from fancy and to give members and guests an opportunity to get new building and construction information first hand, the Central Contra Costa Builders Exchange will present top FHA. VA and county officials in a panel discussion Monday.

The monthly dinner meeting will be held at Rudon's restaurant in Pittsburg.

Speakers will include James Belda, acting director of the FHA regional office; Duane Sarles, loan guaranty officer, VA regional office, and R. Kraintz and W. Lamb of the county building inspection department.

Speakers will conduct open forum of questions and answers following their talks. This meeting, though the last scheduled until fall, is in keeping with the new policy of holding meetings in all parts of the county served by the group.

What They Say

Are Summer 'Rec' Areas Adequate?

Just about every community is faced with the recurring summer problem: Where do the youngsters go for healthy recreation?

In the city, the problem is "How do we keep 'em off the streets?" area, the problem is no less acute. Here in this fast growing "rural" It is, perhaps, even greater.

BUT LOCAL communities are begining to form clubs and family swimming pool groups to try to meet the urgency of the growing population and the lack of recreational facilities.

Is this lack being overcome? Our researchers sampled the opinions of several local residents with the question: "Do you think our teenagers and younger residents have enough summertime recreation facilities in this area? If not, what do you think should be done?"

"I definitely think they do not," was the emphatic reply of Joseph Barber, 3346 Betty Lane, Lafayette. He added, "There seems to be no place for them to go for decent recreation. The Community Center project will help. But there should be such things as swimming pools, too."

Leo W. McIntyre of 857 Birdhaven Court, Lafayette, replied, "Not without traveling a considerable distance. The Community Center will help some, though."

MRS. WILLIAM E. Vaughan of 28 Estates Drive, Orinda, believes the recreation facilities in her area are adequate. "I certainly do," she said "We have swimming golf and many other things for them to do."

"Well, I've heard comment there should be more facilities for tennis, but otherwise, on this side of the Crossroads there seems to be plenty to do — there are two swimming pools already, and the Sleepy Hollow pool will be the third," answered Mrs. Andrew A. Knudsen of 553 Miner Road, Orinda.

Mrs. Ralph Westerman of 351 Cordelia Way, Walnut Creek, though the mother of three growing children, made no comment on recreational facilities, because, "the children do plenty of playing right at home. We believe in more family projects."

"I suppose there are not enough," said Phyl N. Hilton of 144 Hall Lane, Walnut Creek. It was apparent that Hilton, father of 6 growing children, had done a good deal of intelligent thinking on the subject of recreational provisions for the young. He added, "But I don't think you can ever have enough. This sort of thing requires so much planning, space and money."

Of quite a different opinion was Oswald S. Wauchope of 104 Soule Avenue, Pleasant Hill. "I'm not in favor of the taxes put into the development of recreational facilities. In that this is strictly a residential area with ample yard space, I think the expense to the taxpayer for additional play space is unnecessary."

Mrs. Robert H. Weirich of 343 Gloria Drive, Pleasant Hill felt there is a "desperate need for more recreational equipment. If they would at least put up some swings, slides and a sand box to keep the children happy. In that I have a car the children can take advantage of the wonderful swimming pool facilities in Martinez."

Let's Hope It's Successful

Donald Doyle Named to 'Top 10'

Assemblyman Donald D. Doyle of Lafayette was listed among the "top 10" legislators in a poll of more than 30 reporters representing nearly 20 news organizations covering this year's legislative activities in Sacramento.

Doyle rated on 39 per cent of the lists turned in and was listed as an assembly administration leader on mental hygiene and tax revenue matters.

"Most able" legislator was Casper Weinberger of San Francisco. Weinberger and Senator Ben Hulse of El Centro made 90 per cent of the lists turned in.

Others, and the percentage they received, include: Gordon Fleury (R., Sacramento) 74 per cent; Thomas Caldecott (R., Berkeley) 68 per cent; Bruce Allen (R., San Jose), 45 per cent; Clark Bradley (R., San Jose) 45 per cent; Luther Lincoln (Re., Oakland); Sen. Hug Burns (D., Fresno), 35 per cent and Sen. Edwin Regan (D., Weaverville), 35 per cent.

The poll was conducted by McClatchy newspapers.

CREA Addressed On Customer Prospecting

Members of the Contra Costa Real Estate Board had a busy schedule this week.

Stan Young, past president of the Oakland Board and instructors in the University's real estate certificate program spoke to the Monday Mart Breakfast on the "Art of Customer Prospecting." Stan has been a popular speaker in C.R.E.A.'s Educational Conferences.

MONDAY evening, 8 p.m. at the Acalanes High School in a town hall type of meeting, realtors were among the more than 500 who turned out to hear county planning discussed. Spokesman Harold Smith represented the County Realtors and General Contractors.

The Mart Committee met 9 a.m. on Tuesday at the Board office, 1607 Locust Street, Walnut Creek.

YESTERDAY the C.R.E.A. Regional Vice-president Armand F. Anderson and Mrs. Anderson attended the women's division regular monthly meeting. The luncheon meeting was held at the El Nido in Lafayette instead of Las Palmas in Walnut Creek.

This was the first time Mr. Anderson appeared before the group. The attendance of members and friends was very good, President Vera Foss reported.

Letters to The Editor

ar Editor:

Much has been written and much has been said regarding the PIE proposal to build an administrative office in Orinda on the Pine Grove site—property the company owns.

From th estart, PIE has asked for the support of the community through the Orinda Association. The association (of which I am one of the original founders) assured PIE that once their proposal was documented it would be brought to the people of Orinda for their approval. Now the Orinda Association has denied the people of Orinda the privilege of any decision by withdrawing the opportunity to vote.

Denying Orinda people the right to vote on the PIE proposal, and, in its stead, offering a poll by mail (which decides nothing), is in effect denying first—a democratic principle and, second—progress itself.

At its founding, the Orinda Association was brought into being as a democratic means for Orinda's residents to express themselves regarding the affairs of their community. The Orinda Association was to foster progress—not hinder it.

Yet today, the association, by its recent actions denying Orindans the right to vote, in effect denies the progress promised the community by PIE. The PIE administrative office is in architectural harmony with the area, located at the predominantly commercial Crossroads, in keeping with the pattern and atmosphere of the area, and PIE would contribute—through taxes—to Orinda's continued growth and well-being.

It is high time the Orinda Association recalled its original intent and purpose. Let it represent the voice of all the Orinda residents by allowing a democratic vote—and awaken to progress by helping and not hindering Orinda's future.

A. W .ELKINTON,

Sheriff's Ball to Aid Widows, Kids

The second annual Sheriff's Ball will get underway with dancing and good fellowship tomorrow night at 9 at the Diablo Country Club.

Music will be provided by Henry Gallagher and his 12 piece orchestra and arrangements have been handled by Chairman Charter "Buzz" Arendtson.

He was assisted by committee workers Joe Walsh, Earl Falkenstrom, Tony Silva, Dave Gardella, Edwin Stockman, Lloyd Kelly, Evo Chiaradia and William Faulkner, president of the Deputy Sheriff's Association.

The ball is held annually to obtain funds for the officers' widows and orphans and had its inception early in 1954.

Tickets may be purchased from any deputy or at the door.

Under The Sun

By Herman Silverman

How is the sheriff doing?

A year ago the 1953-'54 Contra Costa County grand jury released its annual report. Sharply criticized was Sheriff Long's department for laxity in enforcing pinball gambling laws. Lack of an efficient department to give good service was emphasized in the jury's recommendations.

The recommendations included: "The sheriff could get better use out of his effective officers were he to send out on patrol duty his station officers and replace them with clerks. That sufficient funds be put into the county budget to permit the incoming sheriff to double his present force of effective personnel. Illegal pinball machines were and probably still are operating . . . the sheriff's office is . . . totally unable or unwilling to cope with this problem.

Now let's take a brief look at the grand jury report of exactly five years ago. "Gambling and its associated vices are found generally through the county and apparently little or no effort is being made to curb these activities, either from the standpoint of policng or obtaining convictions after arrests are made."

Other grand juries before and since 1950 have criticized the sheriff's department (along with District Attorney Frances Collins). You know the story. The county was infamous for gambling, vice, inefficiency, corruption, dishonesty — until last January when Harry Brown was overwhemingly voted into the sheriff's office.

Brown under fire . . .

Last week the current grand jury issued a special report criticizing Sheriff Brown.

In order for the department to "render better service to the county, restore harmony and improve morale," the report urged that the "political hatchet be buried."

Morale had been weakened, the jury stated, by "apparent political reprisals (by Brown), delegating administrative functions and highly technical duties to his principal clerk, failing to hold general staff meetings to discuss proposed organizational changes, unwise publicity and a military aloofness."

THE REPORT said that Principal Clerk Ruth Rathke, one of 21 members of the department quizzed by the Grand Jury, has antagonized many members of the department and has assumed responsibilities not in keeping with her duties.

It added, however, that she is capable and "could be more efficient if (her) efforts were confined to the duties of principal clerk."

Signed by Foreman Robert B. Claxton of Kennsington, an official of the C. and H. Sugar Company of Crockett, the report went on to say the sheriff is wasting tax funds by "transferring trained, experienced and efficient personnel, especially on the Civil Division, from positions in which they could render the most valuable services to the county, and placing them where the value of their services has been reduced to the minimum and by placing trained personnel with untrained personnel."

Brown answered that the grand jury was playing politics, that Ruth Rathke was doing an excellent job and the jury had failed to consider the many improvements made.

Study the evidence

Although Brown is known to talk first and think later on occasion, I think he may be right when he says "politics" influenced the grand jury. Note that for a year this grand jury has been wrapped in a cloak of secrecy. They have released no major reports or stories, as did the previous grand jury. Then, suddenly newspapers carry "authorative reports that the grand jury was to investigate the sheriff's office. Days before the hearing, newspapers printed accurate lists of names of witnesses subpoened to appear before the jury. All year long this had not happened.

There seems little doubt that members of the grand jury, or someone "leaked" the information to embarrass the sheriff. And with only a few weeks before its annual report, the grand jury apparently could not wait with its morale report on the sheriff's office. The grand jury has not done this to any other department.

But now let's check a few facts. You have already read criticism, by past grand juries of earlier law enforcement agencies. Since taking office, Brown has put a tight lid on gambling and vice in the county. While Sheriff Long and D.A. Collins said they could do nothing, Brown tossed out illegal pinball machines and claw machines. The gambling world now knows it can't operate in the county.

Since January, all sections of the sheriff's department have been reorganized. Personnel shifted. New departments added. Sub-stations and area patrols established. Uniforms worn.

Morale? Going down?

Was morale of the department hurt? Certainly morale in some quarters went down. From the very day Brown was elected last November, the morale of some zoomed down. They were the ones who were certain machine-candidate Dick Richardson would win and they openly opposed Brown.

Civil service laws clearly prohibit campaigning by county employees but these officers campaigned on their own time as well as county time against Brown. There was enough evidence to fire many of them but Brown chose not to press charges.

Certainly, morale went down among the deputies,, clerks and others who hadn't done an honest days work for years. Suddenly these people found themselves in the peculiar position of being expected to work for their pay.

Certainly morale went down among men who were switched to other jobs or other areas. This is standard procedure in police organization. When something is wrong with the San Francisco or Oakland police, personnel is shifted and commands are changed. The men aren't happy about it. Sometimes police officers set up private deals on the side — some honest and others not-so-honest. Their morale goes down when they are kicked off the gravy train.

Uniforms and orders . . .

Morale must have gone down with those men who for years did not have to wear a uniform. Most law enforcement agencies require uniforms. Brown so ordered.

Morale must have declined among some deputies who were not used to snapping into action when ordered to do so. Brown is a military man and probably expects immediate obedience to an order. Perhaps he is too demanding, but the department certainly needed it.

A complete reorganization of the department could not be accomplished without stepping on lots of toes. I think that even Brown's severest critics will have to admit that the reorganization has been good for he department. Since January there have been more improvements and changes effected than in the entire 20 previous years.

And what is the result?

The result is a decent, honest and more efficient sheriff's office. Ask anyone who has had to call for help from the department. Deputies answer calls fast these days.

Now I'm not kidding myself. Harry Brown is no angel. He has made mistakes and will make others. He is undiplomatic, a bit egotistical, demanding, over-eager. He has his share of annoying characteristics. He may have moved too fast. He is unwilling to butter up the boys in power to gain his ends. And undoubtedly some of the grand jury's criticisms have varying degrees of merit.

But let's remember that Harry Brown is a challenge to the county machine. He represents a real threat to the entrenched interests. The "ins" are doing everything possible to discredit the sheriff. This will continue.

Credit where credit is due

Exactly how or why the grand jury has been influenced by politics, as stated by Brown, I do not know. But isn't it odd the jury did not bother to discuss at any length the many improvements he has made. Not even a mention that Brown, is returning about $12,000 a year to the county from fees that other sheriffs legally keep.

Yes, the grand jury is undoubtedly correct when it says that some of the personnel is unhappy. But as a citizen and taxpayer I am much happier. My morale has increased because I know that for the first time in many, many years we have a good sheriff's department.
